IS SUED ON BOND.

AMOUNT WILL REACH
FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS

DEVELOPMENTS OF A SENSATIONAL NATURE ARE PROMISED WHEN THE CASE COMES UP.

Money Belonged to Heirs of L. Bryant—Misappropriation of Such Funds Is a Felony Though Grand Jury Fails to Indict.

The settlement of former Master Commissioner John W. Kelly, of Trigg County, is at last in the courts.

A. C. Burnett, Master Commissioner, Mrs. V. K. Blakeley, and others have sued John W. Kelly, and his sureties, the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Co., for $4,865.33 shortage in the settlement of Kelly last January.

The record says: "Mrs. V. K. Blakeley, who is chief plaintiff in this suit, is the daughter of L. Bryant, deceased, who lived in the eastern part of the county. At his death he left to his daughter, Mrs. V. K. Blakeley, wife of Mr. James D. Blakeley, of this county, along with some property, several thousand dollars in money during her life time, and at her death it was to go to her children, who are also plaintiffs in this suit and are as follows:

MAGNETITE LAMPS

LOUISVILLE WILL NOT DECIDE ON LAMPS FOR SOME TIME.

Magnetite Lamps Are to Be Left Up
For Several Months to Experiment.

Several months will be required for the experimentation with the new magnetite are lamps, installed by the Louisville Lighting company for the board of public works, according to President Snead. The new type is being watched closely, and it will be found what its relative cost is, how much care is needed in its maintenance and the cost of the lamps. It is understood that they can be obtained for practically the same price as the old open arc lights.

Another company is preparing to put out a new lamp, and it is likely that no final decision will be reached as to the permanent type to be used until after it is inspected.—Louisville Herald.

The city Democratic committee will meet tomorrow evening at eight o'clock at the City Hall police court room for the purpose of deciding the time and manner of selecting the party nominees for the municipal offices to be filled at the regular election during November. It was intended to hold the gathering in the general assembly chamber on the second floor of the building, but this cannot be done because the council holds its regular semi-monthly meeting there tomorrow evening.

LIVELY CHASE AFTER NEGRO

WILL TUCKER, COLORED,
CHARGED WITH HOUSE-BREAKING.

Authorities Get Word That Three Negroes Escaped From Waverly, Tenn., Jail.

After an exciting chase for half an hour Officer Aaron Hurley and Mr. Clarence Chamblin last night captured Will Tucker, colored, in the alley opening on Eleventh between Caldwell and Husbands streets, and locked him up on the charge of breaking into the Chamblin residence several nights ago and stealing a coat and pistol.

Officer Hurley got a line on the stolen goods last night and going to the home of Sherman Hudson, colored, across from the Chamblin & Murray brickyards found the coat in the trunk of Tucker who boarded there. It developed that Tucker had sold the gun to Bud DeBoe of that vicinity.

Tucker was espied and started to run. Officer Hurley deputized several negroes and two white men, and the chase started. For half an hour they fell over fences, ran through yards and alleys, until getting into the Eleventh street alley when Clarence Chamblin caught up with Tucker, and covering him with a gun, brought the fugitive to a standstill.

Wife Whipped.

Doc Jackson, colored, was arrested last night on the charge of whipping his wife.

Escaped From Jail.

The authorities here received a message over the long distance telephone yesterday from Waverly, Tenn., stating that three negroes had broken out of jail there, and it was thought they might come this way.

The officers here are watching all the incoming trains, and will nab the darkies if they come to Paducah, as they have descriptions of the fugitives.

Re-appoint Commissioner.

The term of Mr. Mann Clark as a member of the police and fire commission, expired July 15th, and Mayor Yeiser intends re-appointing this official for another term, which is for four years. The mayor will probably hand his appointment in to the legislative boards this week in order the members of those bodies will know who was chosen, although confirmation is not necessary, as they have nothing whatever to do with the mayor's appointments in this respect.

Mr. Clark has made an excellent commissioner, and the mayor evidences his recognition of this fact by naming him for another term. Thus far the mayor has not had occasion to change any of the commissioners since the city went into the second class.

DETECTIVE MOORE AT DEATH'S DOOR IN RIVERSIDE HOSPITAL

ON THE PHYSICIANS OPERATING UPON HIM YESTERDAY AFTERNOON AT THE INSTITUTION, IT WAS DISCOVERED THAT THE DISEASE HAD ROTTED THE APPENDIX WHICH BURST AND ALLOWED A FLOW OF PUSS—NOT ONE CHANCE IN A THOUSAND TO GET WELL.

With deep regret will all Paducah learn that Detective T. J. Moore now lies at the point of death in his private ward at Riverside hospital, and the recovering from the sudden attack of appendicitis that overcame him. This will be both sad and surprising news, as only a few of his friends know of his illness, he having been on the streets as late as Thursday night. He was operated on yesterday.

Thursday Detective Moore returned from Lexington, Tenn., with the two alleged green goods men, and was apparently in the best of health, although complained of not feeling well, but presumed this was from over-exertion on his several days trip to Lexington. Friday morning the ailment developed so that he was kept to his bed, and yesterday the doctors discovered he was suffering from appendicitis and the popular officer was conveyed from his residence on North Sixth near Clay street, to Riverside hospital, several blocks distant, in Undertaker Guy Nance's ambulance. Yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock Dr. Horace Rivers operated upon the detective, and on making the incision into his stomach found that the appendix had decayed and burst, letting the corruption and puss into the stomach. Noting this the physicians announced that if the detective recovered it would be marvellous, as this case had developed into the last stages before its presence evidenced itself and Mr. Moore could be operated upon.

The doctors are doing all they possibly can for him, and this morning early he was resting well, but there was no hopes the physicians saying he may linger some days, and then again might pass away at any moment.

Detective Moore's family is in Alabama visiting relatives and have been notified of his condition. They are expected home tonight.

SALOON APPLICATIONS BE UP BEFORE THE COUNCIL

OSCAR DENKER WANTS TO OPEN AT 1043 KENTUCKY AVENUE WHILE THEO PETERS HAS ERECTED A SMALL BUILDING BEHIND 1040 BROADWAY, AND WANTS A LICENSE TO DO BUSINESS THERE.

At tomorrow night's meeting of the council Theo. Peters and Oscar Denker, Jr., will both have in applications for saloon licenses, but the places of business are not the same as those in which these parties were selling liquor when their licenses were taken away from them several weeks ago. Denker wants a license to open at 1043 Kentucky avenue, while Peters wants a license for 1040 B. Broadway.

Denker formerly did business at 1044 Broadway, while Peter's stand was at 1040 Broadway. Their licenses were taken from them the first of last month because the grogshops were located right on the way to the Washington school building on West Broadway, and hundreds of children had to pass it several times daily going back and forth to their studies. Large crowds of men, sometimes half drunk, always hung around the corner, and constantly made remarks about girls and ladies passing.

Now Peters has built himself a small building on the rear yard of his old place of business, and which new structure faces the alley, half a block off Broadway. He has numbered the place 1040 B. Broadway, and wants the authorities to grant him a license to open a saloon back there off the street, he claiming that on account of the place of selling being located 200 feet from Broadway, if crowds collect out on the street it will not be because the saloon is there.

Denker has rented the building at 1043 Kentucky avenue, and desires opening here. This is the place where William Estes got a license to do business, but never opening. Estes now requests the legislative boards to return his money, the application to this effect being put in tomorrow night.

It was not because of any objections to these gentlemen that their former licenses were taken away, but on account of the location of their saloons being on the scholars' route, it was deemed advisable to remove them by taking away the licenses which necessitated the places being closed.

Druggists' Cases.

Yesterday morning during the trial of the warrants against the retail druggists of this city in the police court, it developed that Henry Carter and Ed Byrd, the "detectives" who got the warrants against the druggists, were employed by the Retail Liquor Dealers' Association of Paducah to see if the druggists were selling, and they are to get rewards of $25 for the first conviction, and $12.50 for each succeeding one. Carter and Byrd testified during the trial that they came here from Graves county and were employed by the committee of James Sherrill, William C. Gray, Oscar Denker, Jr., and Roy Nelson, from the retail liquor dealers' association.

Carter and Byrd identified Roy S. Ballowe as the druggist who sold them, but Ballowe proved an alibi by several witnesses. The two private detectives did not identify Sleeth and Stephenson as the ones who sold them, and the court has held open his decision in the warrants.

Secretary John Counts of the retail liquor dealers' body yesterday said if Mayor Yeiser did not revoke the licenses of the druggists that probably the retail organization would lay the matter before the mayor and urge that this be done in order no partiality could be shown in enforcing the law in the city.

The retail liquor dealers offer a reward for any conviction of anyone selling liquor at any place upon the Sabbath, inside town, and are doing everything possible to help the authorities to enforce the law.

Father Returns After Nineteen Year's Separation From Family

MR. DANIEL TYREE SPENT LAST WEEK IN THIS CITY WHILE EN ROUTE TO HIS FORMER HOME IN MARSHALL COUNTY, FROM WHENCE HE DISAPPEARED YEARS AGO AND FOR A LONG WHILE WAS MOURNED AS DEAD.

Nineteen years ago Dan Tyree left Marshall county without telling anyone where he was going or how long he was going to stay. His wife was dead, but he left three small children aged 11, 9 and 7, the oldest being a boy, Neil, who is now the popular carrier on Route No. 1 out of Benton. The girls are now grown to womanhood and married, one being in this city, the other in Farmington, Graves county.

About a week ago Neil heard that a man by the name of Tyree was in Evansville, Indiana, who claimed to have lived in Marshall county, and thinking that it might be his long absent father, he left last Saturday night for that place, and almost by accident found him Monday morning. Mr. Tyree did not recognize his son until he made him-

OBSERVANCE OF SABBATH

W. C. T. U. LADIES DISCUSSED
THIS DURING THEIR MEETING.

Mrs. Mary Balch, the State Corresponding Secretary Will Be Here Again in September.

The meeting of the Paducah W. C. T. U. last Thursday afternoon was, as usual, an interesting one.

The special department considered was that of Sabbath Observance, the exercises being by the superintendent of the department, Mrs. Lowell Magnor.

How to observe the Sabbath in such a way as to secure the needed relaxation and also respect the sacredness of the day in obedience to the commandment, "Remember the Sabbath Day to keep it Holy," was the subject for consideration. The consensus of opinion as expressed, seemed to indicate that while what was regarded as the Puritan Sabbath may have been a strained condition, the tendency of the present day is to an extreme in the opposite direction, and that strong efforts should be exerted to retain the hallowed spirit of the day.

Mrs. Mary E. Balch, the state corresponding secretary, who spent several days here a few weeks ago and proved such an inspiration to every one, will be here Saturday, September 1, to hold a county convention, when an interesting program will be presented.

Mrs. Balch will also speak in one of the city churches on Sunday, September 2.

self known to him, and then natural feelings of the father asserted themselves and a most affectionate greeting was given to the son. Thus after an absence of nineteen years he returns to find the three small children grown to maturity, all married and have families of their own.

During his absence he has been wandering from place to place, having been in several states south and west but finally has returned to his relatives, who are rejoiced that the wanderer has returned.

Kelly Matter In the Court

lows: Mrs. Maggie Backus, Mrs. Fannie Miller, Mrs. Bud Miller, Mrs. Bobbie Smith, and Miss Mollie Baker. This money was placed in the hands of the master commissioner, the interest of which was to go to Mrs. Blakeley during her lifetime and at her death the principal to be divided among her children. "In February, 1898, after Judge Thos. P. Cook was elected circuit judge of this district, he appointed Mr. Kelley his master commissioner in this county, and this money, along with the other trust funds then in the hands of the master commissioner, were turned over to him. Mr. Kelley served as such commissioner of the county for eight years, and at the last February term of Court Judge Cook appointed Circuit Clerk A. C. Burnett as master commissioner of the county to succeed Mr. Kelley.

"The plaintiffs in this suit claim that in Mr. Kelley's settlement with the court he failed to turn over $4,865.33 of the money that was due the Blakeley estate which is the amount for which they are now suing. "This is one of the most important suits that has been filed in this county for many years, and much litigation is expected before it is finally settled. It will be watched with a great deal of interest not only by the people of this county, but throughout the entire western part of the state.

"Judge John D. Shaw is the attorney for the plaintiffs, while the guaranty company will be represented by Maj. Jas. B. Garnett." The chief interest lies in the fact that under the law the misappropriation of public funds by a master commissioner is a felony, and the guaranty company, if it has to pay the shortage, may prosecute Kelly, who is now county attorney, to the bitter end. It is also reported that Kelly's explanation of what became of the money will implicate other parties and throw some light on the failure of the last two grand juries to take cognizance of the matter.

Civil Service Examinations

Ohio Liquor Law Denounced as "Covenant With Death" and an Agreement With Hell"

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 4.—In state convention here today the prohibitionists practically divorced their party from other temperance organizations, condemned the Aiken $1,000 saloon tax law, adopted a platform declaring for direct legislation, woman suffrage, international arbitration election of United States senators by direct vote, and a more rigid bank inspection.

It was declared that the liquor traffic can only be curbed by a party organized for the one purpose. Reference to the Aiken law as "a covenant with death and an agreement with hell" was received with cheers. The resolutions against the Aiken law were "it authorizes the collection of blackmail from the criminal liquor sellers, violates the principles of taxation, contravenes the constitution, compels every citizen to share responsibility with the liquor seller for the crimes and evil resulting therefrom, and is vicious in principle and powerless as a remedy, and we advocate its immediate repeal." The principle of local option was also criticised.

The convention adjourned after naming its state ticket: Alfred E. Hughes of Delaware county for secretary of state, John H. Dickason of Wayne county for school commissioner, Dr. Gwin Gaylor of Ross county for dairy and food commissioner, R. H. Rutherford of Muskingum county for board of public works.

SOUTHERN BOYS UNFIT FOR ARMY

ARE STUNTED AND HAVE MANY BAD HABITS, SAYS OFFICER.

Lieutenant Bennett Says Cigarettes and Late Hours Render Youths Unfit for Army Life.

New Orleans, Aug. 4.—First Lieutenant William E. Bennett, Twenty-fifth infantry, U. S. A., in charge of the local recruiting office, sounds a note of warning to the boys and young men of New Orleans and other southern cities, the occasion for this being the fact that out of a total of 106 applicants during July, only twenty-nine men were found physically fit to enter the army. According to Lieutenant Bennett's observation out of the same number of applicants in any of the new states west of the Mississippi river, or in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, the number of enlistments out of so many applicants would have been as high as sixty or eighty. The reason for such an unsatisfactory condition in the south is ascribed by the officer to cigarette smoking, late hours and other bad habits.

Lieutenant Bennett said: "The bad habits of the boys of today are responsible for this order of things. I never saw so many cigarette smokers. Late hours, cigarettes and other bad habits stunt them. They are under weight or under size, sometimes under both. The regulations provide that a recruit shall not be less than 5 feet 4 inches tall, and with that height weight not less than 128 pounds. It would seem that almost anybody ought to get past that, but they don't."

Lieutenant Bennett's statement has been the subject of general comment.

Pictures of Nude Women Start Anthony Comstock on Crusade; Art Students' League Raided.

New York, Aug. 4.—On a warrant sworn out by Anthony Comstock, secretary of the Society for the Suppression of Vice, the studios of the Art Students' league, one of the most noted art schools in America, was today searched, and the bookkeeper, Miss Anna Robinson, was placed under arrest.

It was charged by agents of the society that the reproduction of figures in the nude contained in the fall catalogue, which the league was about to issue, were of an immoral character. A patrol wagon load of catalogues was seized and taken to the police court as evidence.

Magistrate Mayo adjourned court for a further hearing on Aug. 7 of the charges against Miss Robinson, the only person placed under arrest.

The pamphlet seized by the society's agents is the one issued regularly each fall to prospective students, and shows pictures of the work turned out by the school. The issue styles "The American Student of Art," and specimens pictured are such as are seen in any art studio or museum. In the book there are but two pages devoted to the nude.

The Art Students' league maintains in 215 West Fifty-seventh street studios and apartments for instruction in fine arts. No question has ever been raised before as to the character of the pamphlets or of the art exhibited.

CANT OFFER GIFT TO HARVARD.

Nelson Morris Says the Prejudice Against Meat Packers Is Too Strong.

New York, Aug. 4.—A cable dispatch to the Times from London says: Nelson Morris told a London friend recently that he had purchased the John Harvard home, at Stratford-on-Avon, with the full intention of presenting it to Harvard University. He hesitated, however, to tender the gift on account of the prejudice that had lately been aroused against the American meat packers. He seemed to think that, for the present, he could not gracefully carry out his intention.

While speaking of the canned meat scandal Mr. Morris stated that his firm had already suffered a net loss of $2,000,000 in its foreign trade on account of the outcry raised against the products of the Chicago packing-house.

FOR ZION'S LEADER.

Two Candidates Have Filed Their Nomination Certificates.

Chicago, August 4.—Two candidates filed their certificates of nomination for the office of general overseer of the Christian Apostolic Catholic church in Zion City in the United States circuit court today. The candidates are Wilbur Glenn Voliva, who took charge of the property after Dowie had been suspended, and Alfred E. Bills, a former adherent of Dowie, who claims to be opposed to Voliva. Dowie through his attorneys, disclaims any connection with Bills. Dowie will not be a candidate.

HAND CUT BY BROKEN BOTTLE

FRANK CLARK PAINFULLY INJURED YESTERDAY AT BREWERY.

Captain J. E. Williamson Violently Ill Friday Evening At His Home—Other Sick People.

Frank Clark had his right hand painfully cut yesterday while working at the brewery on Tenth and Monroe streets. He was laboring in the bottling department when a bottle burst and the broken pieces cut his hand quite painfully. Dr. Jeff Robertson attended him.

Capt. J. E. Williamson of North Sixth street, is confined at his home with a spell of illness. He was dangerously sick through Friday night and for a while looked like he would not survive, but yesterday morning was considerably improved.

Mrs. Dr. S. H. Winstead was better yesterday at their home on Seventh and Washington streets. She was taken violently ill with congestion the night before.

Other Sick People.

Mr. Louis Riecke was slightly improved again yesterday at his home on Seventh and Jefferson streets.

Mr. Edward Nance of the Fels dry goods store is up after an attack of malarial fever at his home on West Broadway.

Mr. F. M. Matlock is confined with a severe bilious attack at his home on South Tenth street.

The infant of Mr. N. M. Roberts is very sick with summer complaint at their home.

MURDERER INVITES DEATH.

Would Place Rope on His Own Neck, Says Woman's Slayer.

Garrett Ind., Aug. 4.—Edward Black today deliberately shot and killed Mrs. Hattie Cannon as she lay in her bed. He first fired at the woman through a window, then entered the house and broke his weapon to pieces by beating his victim's head.

When arrested Black said he had killed the woman, was glad of it and if a mob wanted to hang him he would place the rope around his own neck.

The murderer is 40 years old and an employee of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad shops. Mrs. Cannon was 25. Black and the woman had lived together for several months.

Nine-tenths of a man's so-called dignity is nothing but bluff.

HORSE KILLED BY ACCIDENT

BOY WAS RIDING WM. HENDRICK'S HORSE WHEN INJURED.

Shaft of Buggy Penetrated Animals Side and Created Wound That Proved Fatal.

The horse belonging to Mr. Wm. Hendrick, the real estate dealer, died yesterday, as result of an accident. The owner is the son of Hon. John K. Hendrick of Broadway, and yesterday morning found the horse had gotten out of the stable behind their home. Afterwards it was learned that a boy named Richard Kennedy, living at the end of North Fourth street, found the animal roaming the streets. Kennedy started for the livery stable with it, and claims that while at Third and Clark a young man named Gillum tried to beat him to the public watering fountain at the corner. As result the shaft of Gillum's buggy was drove clear through the side of the Hendrick horse, a large hole being torn. The veterinary surgeons attended the horse, but he could not be saved. It was worth about $30.

Mr. Hendrick claims that Gillum was driving faster than a lowed upon the streets, and the former is now preparing to sue the other for the value of the horse that died as result of the accident.

FISH IN BEER KEG BIT.

Bunghole Outgrown, Angler Had to Smash Cask to Get Prize.

While fishing in the Lehigh river near White Haven, Patrick Tully, a Lehigh Valley conductor, hooked a catfish which he could not land, says a White Haven, Pa., telegram. After applying all the methods known to scientific anglers, he was about to give up in despair, when another fisherman proffered assistance. He said there was only one thing to do—wade the stream and spear the fish.

Tully waded forth, expecting to encounter a baby's whale. To his surprise he found his line entered the bunghole of a beer keg that lay in five feet of water. The keg was dragged ashore with much difficulty and was found to contain a four-pound catfish. Its release required the destruction of the keg. The fish evidently had made its home in the keg and eventually grew too large to pass through the bunghole. How it procured food is a mystery.

Not every passenger by the East Coast Route knows that all the trains enter Glasgow by their own gravitation, minus the locomotive, and that in leaving they are pulled up the steep Cowlairs incline by means of an endless steel rope.

Fay Templeton Captures Philadelphia Millionaire

New York, Aug. 4.—Word has been received in New York from Philadelphia that Fay Templeton, the actress, has married William Patterson, a Pittsburgh millionaire, in Ridley Park, a suburb of Philadelphia. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. G. Steinmetz at the home of Dr. Giles a brother in a law of the bride. The couple started on a bridal tour immediately after the ceremony. Rumors that Fay Templeton was to marry had been floating about the Rialto for some time. When the actress was in Chicago playing "Forty-Five Minutes from Broadway" news that she was to marry was conveyed to the other members of the company and it was generally understood that a Pittsburgh man was to be the bridegroom. On the night the company closed its Chicago engagement there was a dinner, at which souvenirs were distributed among the members. Miss Templeton, who made the distribution, stated that the giver was a Pittsburgh friend of hers. The souvenirs were rather costly pieces of jewelry. When Miss Templeton returned to New York she took an apartment temporarily and told George Cohan in confidence that she would soon give up her stage career and take a flying trip to Europe. Fay Templeton has been identified with leading comic operas and extravaganzas for the last twenty years. Managers have always been ready to engage her, as she has invariably brought with her a streak of "good luck" for the play in which she appeared. Although she denies that she has ever been married before, there were in 1892 and 1896 two persistent reports of her marriage to Howell Osborne and after his death to William S. Brown. She was a beneficiary under Osborne's will to the extent of $100,000.

DRUGGISTS WARRANTED

CHARGES HEARD YESTERDAY,
BUT NOT YET DECIDED BY COURT.

Samuel Liebel Held to the Grand Jury in $300 Bond For Shooting At John Muller.

Yesterday morning in the police court Judge Puryear took up the warrants charging Druggists James P. Steach, Roy S. Ballowe, and L. I. Stephon, with having sold liquor last Sunday to two parties. Ballowe was fined last week the sum of $50 but got the judge to re-open the case so witnesses could be introduced. The parties buying the goods got warrants for these proprietors who claim they did not sell the liquor. The accused are setting up the defense that they are not responsible if their clerks sold whiskey during their absence. After hearing the evidence and arguments, Judge Puryear took the warrants under advisement, and will render his opinion tomorrow.

Until tomorrow was there postponed the warrant charging Carrie Carter, colored, with harboring a vicious dog that bit Officer Aaron Hurley on the hand.

Rol'a Head, was arraigned and case continued until tomorrow. He is charged with disorderly conduct, and is the stranger found lounging around the Union depot, with the bottle of chloroform and baby nipple in his pocket.

The court dismissed the breach of ordinance charge against John Elder. Samuel Liebel was held to the grand jury in $300 bond for shooting at John Muller, while the warrant against the latter was dismissed.

Until tomorrow was there continued the drunk and disorderly charges against Will Hornsby, Arch Bland and Warren Hill.

A fine of $1 and costs was assessed against Jim Patterson for being drunk.

GIRL ELOPER SLIDES DOWN WATER PIPE.

Kentucky Beauty Escapes From Vigilance of Aunt and Joins Sweetheart.

New York, Aug. 4.—In spite of the vigilance of her aunt, Mrs. Mays, and her corps of servants, and the watchfulness of the police, Luda Ankrin, the Kentucky beauty who for a week has been kept a prisoner in the old Oaks mansion in Dittmars avenue, in Steinway, escaped by way of a water pipe and a waiting handson, and is now with her sister and sweetheart, Curtis Day, en route to her home in Kentucky.

Whether she is married is a question, but the probabilities are that she will be before she reaches home, or is intercepted by her father, who has left Catlettsburg, Ky., to meet her, or overhauled by a friend of Mrs. Mays, who is in close pursuit. Her father objected bitterly to her marrying Day.

Mrs. Mays left her home Friday for the first time since Luda had been sent to her. A maid was stationed in the hall with instructions to not allow the girl below the second floor, and the gardener, who has become a watchman since Mrs. Ankrin's arrival, was stationed in the front of the house.

But the girl quietly slipped out of a window. A dress suit case was dropped to a man waiting and the girl did not find much difficulty in stepping over the roof of the balcony that is on the first floor, and with the aid of a water pipe, to reach the spacious yard.

According to some children, a cab with a man was waiting a half block away and after climbing a fence in the rear of the house, the girl ran to it.

FACES PRISON TO SEE HOME.

Fugitive Accused of $500,000 Embezzlement Surrenders Himself.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 4.—Finding himself lonesome by being deprived of association with friends, Charles F. Berry, who was charged with absconding with about $500,000 from estates of which he was trustee, appeared after a year's absence and surrendered himself to District Attorney John B. Moran at the courthouse.

Shortly after Berry gave himself up to the district attorney he was arrested by the police inspectors and arraigned in the superior criminal court before Justice Bishop. The court ordered him held in bonds of $15,000.

For a year and three months Berry had eluded the police of the entire continent. It is the only case of importance in the annals of the Boston police department where a man had successfully eluded arrest because he could no longer stand the strain and the loneliness of being separated from his family and friends.

Falling in love is easy, but climbing out again—aye, there's the rub.

HALF FARE FOR THE LITTLE ONES

MAYOR YEISER AND MR BLEECKER WILL ARRANGE THINGS AT ONCE.

Mayor Has Ordered Them Not to Charge Children Between 5 and 12 More Than Half Fare.

Mayor Yeiser yesterday announced that he would sometime this week hold a conference with General Manager John S. Bleecker of the street railway company, regarding what is to be done by the traction company towards putting the half-fare coupon books on sale at different points over the city for the benefit of the children between 5 and 12 years of age. The mayor will be busy tomorrow preparing for the council session in the evening, therefore, will probably not meet the general manager until Tuesday or Wednesday.

The mayor states that if it is satisfactory to the patrons of the car line for the half-fare books to be placed at different stores along the divisions, for sale, that he has no objection, but will sanction the practice. All he wants is for the car company to abide by its franchise which stipulates in broad terms that the children between 5 and 12 years of age shall not be charged more than half-fare, whether they have coupons, money or anything.

On being asked if the company could charge full fare if a child did not have a half-rate coupon, between now and the time the mayor holds the conference with Mr. Bleecker, Mayor Yeiser said he had already instructed the company to abide by its franchise, and if report was made to him that a higher fare than half-rate was charged the children, he would immediately take the company to account for it.

SOUTH IS NEGRO'S NATURAL HOME, SAYS NEGRO ORATOR

Washington, Aug. 4.—The negro young people's congress did not have as large an attendance here Friday as Thursday, but it was an enthusiastic gathering. It is a noteworthy fact that in nearly all of the speeches made at the sessions those who talked dwelt upon the fact that the south is the negro's home, and they generally advised that for the good of the race the negroes should remain in that section. One of the most stirring speeches made was by Giles B. Jackson, a Richmond, Va., negro, who is director general of the negro exhibit to be made next year at the Jamestown exposition. In his address he said:

"There are those of the white race who are friendly toward the negro; there are those of the white race who will do anything in reason to assist him. It is true our friends are not numerous as they used to be; they are leaving us, and have been leaving us by the scores, but can't we account for this? We need their friendly counsel and advice now as well as we did forty-one years ago. They are leaving us because they feel that all has been done for us that is necessary to be done.

"I am one of those who believe that the south is the best place for the negro. In the south the negro and white man will work side by side in building a house; they will draw the same wages. The white man will help to get the negro a job. When the negro's house is to be sold, the white man will lend him money on it, sometimes taking a mortgage and sometimes letting him have it on his good faith. In the south there are things that the negro can't do; after this the negro is allowed to do anything he wants to do. He can get the protection of the white man and his support in buying homes."

New York, Aug. 4.—An order directing the Mutual Life Insurance company to show cause on Tuesday why a peremptory writ of mandamus should not issue requiring it to furnish a correct list of policy holders to the state superintendent of insurance and the International Policy Holders' Committee was signed by Justice Geigerich today.

The order further directs the company to show cause why the committee shall not be permitted to use stencils which the insurance company is now alleged to be using in addressing its policy holders.

OFFICEHOLDERS STILL SERVE

THIS WAS THE CONSTRUCTION
MAYOR YEISER PLACED ON LAW.

Mr. Naffsing of Central City Writes to Know if Passage to Higher Class Makes Difference.

Mayor Yeiser yesterday morning received a letter from Mr. C. T. Naffsing of Central City, asking that is a fifth class city got large enough and passed into the fourth class, did the municipal officers, elected while the town was as yet in the fifth class, go on and serve out the term they were originally chosen for after the city passes into the fourth class. Mr. Naffsing did not state why he was asking this question, but probabilities are Central City is about to pass into the fourth class, and they want to know in what position it leaves the public office-holders.

Mayor Yeiser wrote Mr. Naffsing and said that although he, the mayor, was not an attorney, still he had considerable experience along that line, narrating the opinion given by Judge Pryor some years since when Paducah passed from third to second class. The mayor informed Mr. Naffsing that he believed the office-holders went ahead and served out the term for which they were elected, when any city except the second class, passed from one class to the next highest because all the cities of this state except those of the second class, always hold their election upon the same date, therefore no harm come to the office-holder by virtue of the passage from one class to another.

Many Were False to Their Trusts and Were All-Around Scamps, Says Former Secretary Long.

New York, Aug. 4.—A special to the Tribune from Plymouth, Mass., says:

John D. Long, former secretary of the navy, stirred up a lot of excitement here at the tercentenary of the first church of Plymouth by his address on the pilgrim fathers.

"The saints in Plymouth colony can be counted on the fingers," he said. "Some of the very elect were false to their trust and used their positions to feather their own nests, falsify their trust than any president of a modern insurance company. Within the first decade social vices infested the community; drunkenness, bickering, slander, licentiousness and even crimes against nature were common. All this took place in a community of very limited numbers. No New England village of today need fear comparison with the early Plymouth colony."

Statement Alleging Interest in Street Railway Works Injustice.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 4.—In the dispatches handled by the Associated Press on July 25, in describing the controversy now proceeding over the street railway situation in this city, the statement was made that the railway line of the Cleveland Electric Railway Company on Fulton street was torn up by men acting under the orders of Mayor Tom Johnson in behalf of the Forest City Railway, a 3-cent fare line, and which under certain conditions can come under the ownership and control of the municipality. The additional statement was made that Mayor Johnson "was credited with being largely interested

Washington, Aug. 3.—Typhoid fever is on the increase in Washington. There are now 177 cases under treatment, a much larger number than at this time last year. For the month of July alone 193 cases were entered upon the books of the health office.

Not only the District of Columbia health officers, but representatives of the United States Public Health and Marine Hospital service have been engaged in an effort to find the source of the increased number of cases, but without much success.

The Calamity Howler.

We wish to say to the people of Paducah that they are being held up and robbed by the corporations of this city. They demand and exact franchises as a gift, that they should pay thousands of dollars for; They are forcing the people to pay great dividends on hundreds of thousands of dollars of watered stock. Some of these same men are backing some of the toughest whisky dives in Paducah. They would destroy any and all who oppose them. Their organs denounce men who stand in their paths as demagogues and dangerous men. We want every honest man who reads this article to read what we quote from the Evansville Courier on the same subject:

"Down with the calamity howler, down with the demagogue, down with the traitor to his party, is the cry of the Hemeway organs in their effort to stuff full the mouths of the people with false prosperity hay. 'In spite of all that has been said to the contrary,' state Senator Hemeway on July 4, 'we are getting better every day of our lives.'"

"I believe in the men of this country and know they are right at heart," said John D. Rockefeller as a soothing parry to a question as to what he thought of the indictments against him in the Ohio court. The sophistry in both statements is so evident as not to need comment. The one statement was that of a corporation senator administering the opiate to dull public conscience into fancied security. The other utterance came from the head of a criminal trust that has its slimy fingers in the purse of every man, woman and child in this country.

"Now, just who is a calamity howler? Is he the man who shouts that the railroads of the country are robbing the people of the United States of $400,000,000 every year and reads the roll of those legislators who have made this hold-up possible? Is he the man who tells the plain truth to plain people in a plain way and shows them that the only effective way to secure better legislation is to get rid of the corporation legislators and give the people an inning?"

"If those qualities constitute a demagogue and a calamity howler, why then Patrick Henry and John Quincy Adams rank among the biggest calamity howlers that ever walked the earth. Paul Revere was a calamity howler when he rode from Boston and warned the people to be up and resist their country's foes. The comparison is not farfetched, for the country's worst foes today are those insidious corporations that suck at the breast of the land's finances and grow fat through legislation enacted by favored agents. Who, indeed, is the calamity howler, the man who has the courage of moral conviction to stand in the national arena and shout warning to the people of their inward peril; the man who demands better legislation in favor of the people and shows them how to get it; the man who is too square and too big to be bound by an undeniably wrong party policy?"

If it is true that such a man stands guilty of the infamous charge of being a calamity shouter, then we need more rogues like him.

"Whether he comes from the state of Missouri, the city of New York or the woods of Wisconsin, let him come. The country needs him, the people want him and will crown him with the victor's wreath though they have to wade through the filth and slime of every criminal trust and corporation in the country to reach his feet.

The Difficulties of Life.

When a man undertakes to benefit the community in which he lives by pointing out the evils that exist and calls upon the public to root them out, he may expect to be made a target for the shafts of those who profit by the shameful conditions. Those men are too shrewd and cowardly to come out in the open and make the fight, but they take particular pains to hatch up a scheme and turn it over to a ready tool to put the wheels in motion. In their warfare they do not fight open and above board, but resort to bushwhacking methods. They sneak around and make all manner of insinuations and do not stop at lying or slandering a man, even if he is in the pulpit. When one tells the truth they say he is a crank, a demagogue or a dangerous man. One great fault with the average man is that he does not appreciate the fact that God has given him brains with which to do his own thinking—he permits other men to do his thinking for him, and often follows a shrewd schemer's advice when a moment of calm thought will make the whole scheme plain to him.

Every blow delivered for purer morals, honest elections and the uplifting of mankind is a blow in behalf of every individual man, woman and child, and every citizen who does not indorse or approve of it, is simply lending aid to those who would destroy the peace of the community.

It takes grit to stand up and fight for the best interests of society, and if all men shirked their duty in that respect the forces of lawlessness would go unbridled and play havoc with law, order and decency.

Cancelling State Liquor Licenses.

Persons who sell liquor in violation of the law would do well to read the acts of the late general assembly on the question. By proper proceedings in the county court one convicted of an illegal sale forfeits his state and county license and cannot be granted another license for twelve months thereafter.

The following provisions are to be found in the law:

"Any tavern keeper who shall violate the provisions of his bond, or any tavern keeper, merchant, distiller or druggist who shall violate any provision of this article, shall forfeit his license; and when the county attorney shall have reasonable grounds to believe either upon his own knowledge or from the oath of two credible witnesses of such violation he shall notify the alleged offender to appear before the next term of the county court, commencing not later than five days after the service of the notice, to show cause why his license should not be canceled. On the trial of the case, the court shall enter an order canceling the license or acquit the defendant, as the proof may authorize."

"In such cases the court shall be the judge of the law and the facts and no jury shall be required."

"Any person whose license has been canceled shall not be granted another license for twelve months thereafter."

The Magnetite Lamp.

According to a Louisville paper the Magnetite lamps that have been on trial in that city will have to remain up for several months yet for experimental purposes. The lamp is an experiment and is being watched closely for results, which up to this time have not proven to be entirely satisfactory, for if they were the city would not insist on several more months in testing them. The Magnetite lamp is the one bought by the light committee of the Paducah general council on the representations of the manufacturer with modified recommendations from companies in which the manufacturers are said to be interested. The sharp, shrewd business men in the general council bought the lamps outright for Paducah with but little, if any, knowledge of what they were buying, but the board of public works of Louisville will not permit the company with the contract to light the streets of Louisville to use the magnetite lamps until it has been demonstrated that it is a good light. This shows the difference between Paducah methods and Louisville methods.

Quite a number of the most influential workingmen of the city yesterday, openly denounced certain portions of the resolutions adopted by the Central Labor Union Thursday night. The more they consider the matter the clearer it becomes to their minds that they were flimflammed by a shrewd trick inspired by the corporations. The Register insists on the working man spotting the politicians who are trying to trap them.

The Spirit of Reform.

The spirit of reform gathers force every day as the public becomes more fully aroused to the evils that have so long existed. It is evidence that the people of this country demand a square deal and intend to have it. The Nashville Banner has this to say on the subject:

"The spirit of reform which has become so prevalent a public sentiment in our country is one of the most encouraging signs of the time. It has manifested itself naturally in the investigations of and demand for change in the management of great insurance companies, in the popularly approved movement of the national administration against the offensive practices of trusts and combinations, and it is also manifested in many states for the improved administration of the affairs of commonwealths, and especially in many cities of the country in the demand for municipal reforms."

"This sentiment of reform is an expression of good citizenship. The people have awakened to a realization of the importance and necessity of taking a more forcible and effective part in looking after the public interests. It is a reaction against looseness of law administration and machine politics, and it is a reaction for the public good. The tendency and spirit of this wholesome movement is to emphasize the privileges and duties of good citizenship, and to make right principles and just dealing superior to the dictates and demands of selfish combinations and party whips. The people are realizing more fully than ever before that they have the power to compel reforms, but that this power heretofore has been indifferently considered and often not used to good effect. This power is unavailing unless properly used, and its proper use depends upon the sense of individual responsibility upon the part of voters who desire the best government and the most effectual enforcement of law."

Chicago is going after the tax-dodgers. In one instance one man worth $3,500,000, only pays taxes on $20,000. An estate valued at $20,000,000 escaped assessment entirely. It is estimated that at least $30,000,000 of personal property fails to pay taxes. The tax-dodger is not an honest man; he imposes unjust burdens on others.

The advocates of municipal ownership will watch with keen interest the proceedings of the general council this week. The question of municipal ownership is a burning issue in this city and those in favor of it do not propose to have it sidetracked.

WHITE & SISK, 314 BROADWAY, ARE CLOSING OUT THEIR ENTIRE STOCK OF LADIES' AND MEN'S FURNISHINGS, DRY GOODS AND NOTIONS TO QUIT BUSINESS.

The Byerly Case and Others.

As an accepted bidder for $5,800,000 of the new issue of Panama bonds, Samuel Byerly has only to pay the premiums from his salary as an express clerk or from some other source, and his deal will be "financed." He can then close it out at a profit which is already estimated at over $27,000 while it is still increasing with the increasing demand for the bonds. If he fails to "make good," he loses nothing except his budding reputation as a financier. He then becomes what is technically called a "four-flusher," but this opprobrium costs him nothing in money and he is left ready for something else, says the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The simplicities of the Byerly case are illustrated in an indefinite and still increasing number of other cases. The Byerlys see an opening for a franchise, for an electric railroad or almost anything with the possibilities of a "deal" in it. They incorporate, apply for the franchise and get it. Then they "finance the deal" by borrowing money enough on the franchise to pay for printing several hundred thousand or hundred millions in common stock, preferred stock and construction bonds. If they "make good" they use the money they get from the bonds to carry out at least part of the purposes of the franchise. Part of the preferred stock they "allot" to the bondholders, part they keep for themselves, and with perhaps another part as a "treasury reserve" they distribute the common stock as "souvenirs."

If they break down somewhere along this regular line of financial operation they "four-flush," but they can go on hoping for the fifth card and the final flush of success on the next shuffle.

STOPS GOSSIPS.

Lay a Key or Small Piece of Wire Across the Two Knobs Breaks Circuit.

Two ladies were talking the other day and in some way the telephone subject came under discussion. They both had "party line" telephones. One of the ladies was telling about how somebody will "talk to some other fool for half an hour, and never say anything, either; and here I will be, nearly wild, wanting to order things for dinner or tell Tom what I want him to fetch home. 'Are you bothered that way?' The other replied: 'I used to be, but am not any more. A friend of mine is connected with the service and told me how to put on a choker and I will tell you. You may have noticed those two metal knobs at the top of the instrument. Well, they are there whether you have noticed them or not. Now, when somebody has used the line about twice as long as they ought to, I just lay a key or short piece of wire across those two knobs. Then in a minute or two I take off my short circuit and can get central all right. I used to feel as if I wanted to say bad words, but I let the gossips feel that way.' The hint was thankfully received by the one to whom it was given, and perhaps others will be thankful, too, says the Danville News.

The locals put up a shut out on Mattoon in great style, only two hits off Brahic.

We are winning now and they are looking better to us.

The team is in much better condition than they have been for some time and the fans should give them much better support than they have been doing.

Taylor has rejoined chief's bunch and did some stick work yesterday.

STACEY AND HIS "STUNTS"

UMBRELLA MENDER DEVELOPED INTO CARNIVAL MAN.

"Shoots the Chutes" Cooped in a Barrel, While High Dives Are Made For Appetite.

Friends here have received word from George Stacey, the umbrella repairer and newsboy who has been such a familiar character upon the streets here during the past few years, accompanied by his "fog horn" voice that could be heard for blocks. The word is the first coming from Stacey since he left, and it shows he has developed into a carnival follower, doing hair-raising stunts.

He says he intended "shooting the chutes" at the big waterfall in Mattoon, Ill., cooped up in a barrel, but his cooper failed to show up to nail him inside, so he had to disappoint his audience. He is now visiting the different carnival towns, making high dives and performing other stunts.

Accompanying his letter were a number of clippings showing that the newspapers are devoting considerable space to narrating his exciting feats.

Thus far he has done his parts without accident and writes that he is making oodles of money.

A Germania Municipal Budget.
It is interesting to note how much it takes to run a German city of moderate size like Freiburg, in Baden, which now has 79,000 inhabitants. According to the Public of Chicago:

The liberal party governs the city and its mayor is a progressive man who is an expert.

The debt amounts to 35,000,000 marks, or, as four marks about a dollar, we may call it $8,750,000.

Interest on debt is $336,000; other expenses, $1,704,250; total income of city, $834,500; deficit raised by taxes, $269,750; 4-10 per cent on houses, $81,000; 4-10 per cent on working capital, $48,000; 1-2 per cent on income, $7,500; about one-tenth per cent on income from capital, $53,250. Total, $269,750.

The city required the services of 162 officials. The pay roll amounted to $75,417. In this amount were: Mayor, $3,750; first burgomaster $2,500; second burgomaster, $1,750; city treasurer, $1,525. (Average salary of 162 officials, $465 a year.)

Seven schools (the cost of one university and two classic schools is paid by the state), 119 teachers' salaries, $39,500.

Eighteen councilmen and ninety-five city congressmen receive no salary.

Among some of the items of (net) in come in 1905 were:

From 88 lots of houses, $107,750; from 741 acres of land, $9,500; from 8,033 acres of woodland, $63,000; from water works, $84,250; from gas works, $110,250; from electric light works, $32,500; from electric street railroad, from slaughter-houses, $15,750; $5,000 from the Rieselgut (a farm to which the canal brings the solid sewage of the city, which goes on to the land as manure. This farm is a great success).

Grasshopper Glacier.

One of the small glaciers in Montana is of especially interest on account of the fact that in the mass of ice there are imbedded two strata of grasshoppers, each about a foot thick. There are literally tons of grasshoppers in the ice, and the question naturally arises as to where they came from. The most obvious explanation is that centuries ago two enormous swarms in course of migration were caught in a snow storm, chilled and buried in the snow, where they have remained till now in a perfect state of preservation. In the accounts of the early western explorers a few instances are related of meeting large swarms of locusts on the mountain tops in the Rockies. It is a very fortunate circumstance that the great extension of agriculture in the west has broken up the breeding grounds America.

A FOREIGN CRITIC OF AMERICAN WOMEN.

She Is Represented to Be a French Woman Cooled on Ice.

Men have slept in New York, wondered at Niagara, smelled the stockyards of Chicago and gone back to their European homes to write exhaustive treatises on the American republic. Herr Auernheimer of Berlin has observed visiting beives of beauty at Carlsbad and has written a comprehensive critique of the American woman in comparison with her Parisian sister. The world is full of reckless courage.

Herr Auernheimer finds that the American woman is healthy. You can not kill her. Her springs are of steel. She "is an artist in passing by; she sees just what she likes." Whereas the French woman, "with an ounce of modesty in her," sees everything, has a smile for every one, has temperament and shows it—the American hides hers—and "is made for love." The American woman, it is concluded, "is a French woman cooled on ice." She is "made for a coquette."

Never was critic surer of himself than this one, by his words. Yet he may have made one slip. He says that if the American woman looks tired it is because it is fashionable to look so. Perhaps, instead, it is because she has been listening to Herr Auernheimer.—New York World.

Old Chinatown Gone Forever.

No quarter of the whole town is more strangely altered than what was once the congested picturesqueness of Chinatown. Where the wooden buildings have melted into ashes a stout property line of heavy wire, reinforced by an armed guard, has been stretched across to prevent any further looting of the heathen by the Christian hordes. To one who has loved this Chinese quarter, which exercised upon some minds a fascination undimmed by familiarity, the destruction of Chinatown is the most poignant loss of the San Francisco fire. The faults of dirty, smelly, delirious old Chinatown will prevent its ever being what it has been. As I sat on a little embankment, where a bazar had stood, amid the hot ashes of Chinatown, a tingling in the throat from the arid smoke that curled up from the burrowing little fires about me, I could think of no more joyful consolation than that Robert Louis Stevenson had not lived to feel the pang of this desolation. Just below me the shaken houses where he had lived and the little golden gallery of his monument outlined the ruin of the quarter that he had loved.—August Century.

Lieut. Alex McDonald of the United States army at Des Moines, Iowa, arrival here yesterday to visit his friend, Mr. Robert Black the tailor.

LESSON FROM TENNESSEE

THE "ADVOCACY OF LAW AND ORDER IS GOOD POLITICS."

Saloon Men's Circular Denounced Temperance and Reform Sentiment as Dangerous.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 4.—At 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning, when the election of Johns was practically conceded, Dr. Ira Landrith, the long-time chairman of the committee of one hundred, and from the first close in the councils of Mr. Johns, said:

"A majority of one vote for Mr. Johns would have been a great victory for good citizenship. The day before the election the lawless elements opposed to Mrs. Johns—and great is the pity that in the interest of mere party regularity, some very good men were in intimate association with these gamblers and Sunday saloonists—got out a circular saying, among other things, 'The situation is serious in the extreme. * * * We have a green-eyed monster confronting us, called by its advocates and the journals of the country, also, temperance. The intention and operation of this principle is prohibition of the most rabid nature and damming effect against the rights of a free people. * * * Prohibition howls for more law and order. This terrible state of lawlessness—it is awful certainly awful, if we are to judge by the American, Jeff McCann, Ira Landrith and Johns say about it. If a man has money and wants to risk it on a game of chance, that is his business. * * * Johns is the candidate of this Anti-Saloon league and committee of one hundred, the Law and Order league, this moral reform and moral purity element. Too much law and too much order destroy free government. * * * First, last and all the time * * * let all kinds of men go to the polls and defeat C. D. Johns, for such men as he are destructive to free government.'"

"Further testimony than this should not be needed to show who were Cartwright's closest friend, and why; and it should serve to put the public on notice that the men who have spoken and worked for Cartwright's election are men who can hereafter, with safety, be shunned when offices are to be filled and political leaders chosen."

"The lessons of the election are numerous. These are some of them: 'First—Uncompromising advocacy of law enforcement is good politics in the decent county of Davidson.'

"Second—The leaven of the law-enforcement campaign of 1900-1903 has at last done its work, and the upright citizenship of this community has but to continue unselfish and wide-awake to win the next legislative and mayoralty campaigns."

"Third—The people of free Tennessee will not stand for the 'yaller-dog,' 'party lash,' out-of-date kind of democracy, when the nominee is unworthy and untrue to his oath of office. At last the good principle has been established that a man who has not done his duty in office, or who will not do his duty, has no right to ask for democratic nomination, and if he secures such nomination, no true democrat should support him. Principle is not only a bigger word but a better one than party."

A Remarkable Race.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 4.—Whatever the result of the voting, whatever the opinion of a majority of those who actually voted in the contest for sheriff yesterday, it is undeniable that that ineffable thing called popular sentiment was on the side of Johns. The temper of the crowd which gathers at the bulletin board on election nights is an infallible barometer by which to judge the trend of public sentiment.

Last night, first and last, at least 5,000 persons watched the returns thrown on a canvas across the street from the Banner office. As many as 1,500 were there at one time, and the crowd was constantly changing. While there was a strong Cartwright following in the crowd, and the Cartwright news was liberally cheered it was evident that the great majority of the watchers were for Johns.

When good news for the game independent candidate was flashed on the canvas cheer after cheer went up from the crowd. It showed clearly that the people were for Johns and that the wayfaring man is filled with admiration for the wonderful fight put up by the independent candidate.

Truly, it has been a remarkable campaign. When Johns first announced himself as an independent candidate for sheriff against Thomas E. Cartwright, the nominee of the democratic primary, that announcement created no sensation—it caused only a faint laugh of derision. But Johns was not to be laughed off the track. He announced speakings, introduced himself, spoke to those who came, and each time he spoke the crowd was larger than it was the time before. He made charges against the office of sheriff which attracted attention, and he made known his own ideas of how the office ought to be administered.

He declared against lawlessness and preached the doctrine of law enforcement. He said the gambling houses could be closed and that the saloons could be made to obey the law. The common people heard him.

Without any organization behind him, without a committee, without friends except such as were made by his speeches, he resolutely kept in the race.

By and by, the democratic organization began to look alive. Sheriff Cartwright's friends became alarmed. That element which has always voted with the gamblers became excited. Everybody got together and a campaign against Johns was waged.

Then the reform organizations got behind Johns and effected an organization.

The whole force of the party organization, every stump speaker of great reputation who could be had, every arm of the machinery of the party was exerted—and all against Johns.

The man who was laughed at or ignored in the beginning drew the fire of all the hosts of the party. The past history of Davidson county has shown that independent movements are unpopular. The straight ticket is generally successful. This fact makes the campaign waged by Johns all the more remarkable.

GAMBLING AT SARATOGA IS ORDERED STOPPED

Canfield Threatens to Close His Clubhouse and Restaurant.

Saratoga, N. Y., Aug. 4.—Saratogans in general and gamblers in particular have received a severe anti-gambling shock. The cause was the police ukase that gambling is not to be permitted at Saratoga this season. Orders to this effect were received by Richard A. Canfield of East Congress street and Joseph F. Ulman and William J. Mackin of Philadelphia street, who own and conduct two of the largest places here. Smaller clubhouses were not omitted when the lid was placed on. Canfield threatens to close his clubhouse and restaurant for the season.

In order to jibe with the eternal fitness of things marriage certificates should be printed on bond paper.—Chicago News.

ROAD CONTRACT THROWN UP

CONTRACTOR ROSS GAVE UP THE WORK ON HINKLEVILLE ROAD.

The Brick Masons Are Making Rapid Headway at New County Poor Farm Building.

Contractor Pat Ross has thrown up the contract he has for repairing the Hinkleville road for the county government, and probabilities are the work will be left to some other contractor.

Ross was awarded the work several weeks ago to repair the public highway on this road from the city limits to five miles out in the rural district. He had all the improvements finished, with exception of about 100 loads of gravel, and then threw up the contract.

The balance of the road work in the county is coming along nicely and within a few weeks Supervisor Bert Johnson will have the highways in good shape for the winter period.

Poor Farm Work.

The masons laying brick at the county poor farm building, made good headway the week past, most of the foundation being placed in addition to considerable other work.

By next week the carpenters will have started placing the beams, joists and other timbers, and as the work advances larger forces will be put on things hustled up in order to complete the structure by sometime in October.

BANJO JIM, AGED 112, A SLAVE-DAY RELIC.

Undoubtedly the most eccentric individual in this part of the country is James Lewis, better known as "Banjo Jim," a true type of the negro of ante-bellum days. Says a Far-mount, W. Va. special. He won the sobriquet of Banjo Jim through his performances on that instrument in this and other places for the last forty years, which vocation brings to him the dimes and nickels that provide his livelihood.

A few years ago his banjo, which he had carried for twenty-five years was stolen while he was in Wheeling.
The loss of this treasured instrument has caused the old man much grief.

Born a slave in Wheeling on a date unknown, he claims to be 112 years old, and there are some people who have known him who think his age even greater than this. He says he "knowed" Fairmount, W. Va., when thar wa'n't no Fairmount."

No one confutes his statement when he says that he was a contemporary of George Washington, and that he remembers when the father of his country owned slaves. His memory is fresh upon events of long-spent years, and there are people in this section who say that he is the same Jim in appearance today as he was thirty-five years ago, when they were children.

When asked how many times he was sold, he said: "Leben times to masters in Tennessee, Missurah, Virginyah, Mereland, Kanetucky and Alabama. My fust sale was at Richmond, Virginyah." He has never been married. All along the roads between the towns and cities in this section he is known for his wanderings. When asked how he gets from place to place with such agility, he said: "Sometimes I walks de road and den I ride de train some. Dey makes me get off de train sometimes but when thar backs is turned I gets up 'gin. Dey all knows Uncle Jim."

His usual stay in town is about two weeks in warm weather; thence to some other place and then back here again. When winter comes he finds his warm quarters, where he remains till Old Sol gives out the full power of his rays again.

One winter he was placed in the country almshouse, and it was announced that his days would soon end there, but when spring came he began his annual ramblings and was soon in the city again.

Jim likes whisky. His usual drink is whisky and beer mixed; this he calls a cocktail.

His appetite is voracious, and he is not choice as to the diet placed before him.

Asked his views with reference to a future punishment or reward for man's acts in this world, he said:
"Thar is a heben, but no hell. Man's sin is chancelated to place to be burnt while his sole goes to rest with God."

Sleep is as refreshing to him when lying upon boards as that invited by a couch of down. On one occasion when he suffered from rheumatism—this being his only physical trouble—he wrapped himself in a stable blanket and buried himself in a mature heap and lay there several hours till relief came. He is an early riser and never sleeps more than four hours, this having been the limited time given him for sleep when a slave. The deep furrows in his forehead show that Father Time has marked him with many years of life.

CHARGE OF MURDER ON A TOMBSTONE.

In the little old cemetery in this town, which is noted for its curious epitaphs, is a headstone which has been a constant source of trouble for nearly fifty years and which is the cause of a bitter family feud, says a correspondent from Pelham, Miss.
The inscription on the stone is:

Warren Gibbs,
died by arsenic poison
March 23, 1860.

Aet. 36 years, 5 months,
23 days.

Thing my friends when this you see
How my wife hath dealt by me.

She in some oysters did prepare
Some poison for my lot and share.

Then of the same I did partake,
And nature yielded to its fate.

Before she my wife became,
Mary Felton was her name.

Erected by his brother,
William Gibbs.

Every one who visits the cemetery stops to speculate as to the guilt of Mary Felton. What William Gibbs caused to be inscribed there was only a neighborhood suspicion, and there was not even an autopsy on Gibbs' body, but with a strange bitterness he wished all Pelham to know what he thought of Mary Felton.

FEUD BETWEEN FAMILIES.

Long before easy-going, irresponsible Warren Gibbs died there was bad blood in the family. The Gibbses did not like the Feltons, and there was harsh feeling when Warren Gibbs chosen a Felton girl for his bride. The feud was mostly manifested by petty acts until the sudden death of Warren Gibbs gave rise to a suspicion of foul play. In the spring of 1860 Warren Gibbs was seized with a severe fever. Tortured by a burning thirst, he implored some sort of relief. A kind neighbor brought a jug of hard cider, which was almost at the vinegar stage, and the sufferer gulped down a large quantity of the liquid. The acid relieved the man's distress and he began to recover.
Then his wife prepared a meal of oysters, of which he ate greedily, and soon the wretched thirst returned and the man rapidly grew worse. A doctor from Enfield was sent by the relatives of the dying man, but he shook his head hopelessly.

In a day or two Warren Gibbs died, and as there was little or no money charity buried him as quickly as decency would allow. The grave digger, who had the true grim humor which tradition says is an attribute of grave diggers, made a grave seven feet deep, remarking that it would not be well to have the dead man reappear to the embarrassment of the living. The shaft was well aimed, for Warren Gibbs' widow immediately found a new husband.

STONE OFTEN BROKEN.

With a like promptness the brother of the dead man, a resident of Hardwick, bought a pure white stone and ordered the unusual inscription. The brother was a man of means, and he defied the woman and her relatives to do anything. They threatened, but he was obdurate, vowing that if the law did not punish guilty people he would.

Then at dusky shadowy forms began to creep into the graveyard armed with hammers and sharp tools, and the brother appointed agents to watch the stone to see that it was not molested. But the agents could not be there all the time, and again and again the stone was broken down only to be promptly restored and the inscription made as plain as ever.

Then the brother assumed the offensive and said he would prosecute any one who touched the tombstone, and he intimated that wicked tales would be told in such a prosecution.
Then the stone remained unmolested for years until four or five years ago, when relatives of the guilty or grossly maligned woman, who is now dead, took up the matter with the idea of prosecuting William Gibbs.
The physician who had attended Gibbs declared that there was no convincing evidence to support the accusation, as there had been no autopsy but he also discouraged legal proceedings and the matter has been dropped for the present.

Once in a while the brother of Warren Gibbs or some representative drives over to the cemetery to see if the gravestone is in its place.

NAPOLEON A BAD RIDER.

Great General Not at Home on the Horse.

Frederic Masson declares that the Emperor Napoleon was a bad rider.
Though frequently thrown from his horse, his head was always down on his chest and his legs were bent by his too short stirrups. Hence his back was always crooked when he was in the saddle, while his reins were never properly in hand.

It is on record that in attempting at Boulogne to pull his horse suddenly to one side to avoid a heedless child, Napoleon bent clear over the animal's head and fell beside the child. Detaille by name—who became by the way, father of the celebrated painter, Eduard Detaille. In Wurzburg Napoleon once had to pay 600 francs damage for riding down a woman.

Half the problem of keeping in the right road is solved if you will keep within your revenues.

Quality Rather Than Price.

When you are sick, when you see your chances to get well for a few cents? Certainly not. A little difference in the quality of drugs used in filling your prescriptions, sometimes makes a big difference in the results expected by the doctors. We are in the drug business by choice, and because we like it. Did you ever notice that those who like their work are usually the best workmen? This applies to all lines of business or profession. Our policy is to give the best possible quality at a reasonable price, and to give our patrons just a little more than they expect in good service and highest quality. Just try us next time. We guarantee perfect satisfaction.
